

Adult Interventional Cardiology

Angela Hoye, MB, ChB, MRCP
Erasmus Medical Center, The Netherlands.

Patrick Serruys, MD, PhD, FESC, FACC
Professor of Interventional Cardiology, Erasmus University, Rotterdam,
The Netherlands.

Contributing Authors:

| | | | |
|--------------|-----------------|----------------|-------------|
| M. Bertrand | N. Bruining | A. Colombo | A. Cribier |
| P. de Feyter | J. DeGiovanni | A. Hoye | P. A. Lemos |
| J. Marco | B. Meier | F. J. Meijboom | E. McFadden |
| M. Mollet | E. Regar | J. Schaar | P. Serruys |
| C. Slager | H. Suryapranata | F. ten Cate | D. Tueller |
| A. Vahanian | R. van Guens | D. G. Vince | R. Virmani |
| E. Vourvouri | P. Vranckx | M. Witsenburg | |

Description:

This concise and clinically oriented text provides an indispensable straightforward guide to the assessment and classification of coronary lesions, percutaneous therapy of coronary disease and non-coronary intervention. It contains illustrations showing all aspects of adult interventional cardiology and will be useful for cardiologists in practice and training.

Contents List: Section A: Introductory section/anatomical considerations, 1. Introduction: historical perspective, 2. General anatomy of the arterial system, 3. Coronary anatomy, 4. Left ventriculography, 5. Equipment. Section B: The Disease, 6. Atherosclerotic plaque, 7. Clinical presentation. Section C: Assessment and Classification of coronary lesions, 8. Non-invasive, 9. Invasive assessment, 10. Assessment of vulnerability. Section D: Percutaneous therapy of coronary disease, 11. Treatment, 12. Therapy of specific lesions, 13. PCI for acute myocardial infarction, 14. Acute complications, 15. Chronic problems, 16. Adjunctive and support devices. Section E: Non-coronary intervention, 17. Problems of the left ventricle, 18. Percutaneous therapy for valve disease, 19. Percutaneous treatment of congenital heart disease, 20. Intervention of to prevent stroke.

224 pp
261 x 194 mm page size
400 colour and b/w illus.
Hardcover edition
ISBN: 978-1-84076-079-8
Price: £65.00
Publication: 2010

Readership:

Cardiologists in practice and training.

Key Features:

- Provides an indispensable straightforward guide to the assessment and classification of coronary lesions, percutaneous therapy of coronary disease and non-coronary intervention.
- The concise and clinically oriented text has been written by world authorities from different countries.
- Contains illustrations showing all aspects of adult interventional cardiology